

D.O. Valdepeñas

Viña Albali Gran Reserva Selección Privada

Inspired by the starry clear night, Félix Solís wanted to create a wine that reflects the joyful and lively spirit of the Spaniard. He named this wine Albali, after a star in the constellation of Cassiopeia.

Viña Albali Gran Reserva Selección Privada is made from Tempranillo grapes, which are harvested from the best vines of our own vineyard. This wine ripens for a long time in the quiet of our cellar.

📍 Regionen

The name Valdepeñas comes from the eponymous town of the same name from antiquity, located in a sun-drenched river valley, dotted with small rock formations - Val de peñas (Valley of the Rocks). Located south of Castile-La Mancha in central Spain, this region is almost completely enclosed by the production areas of the denomination of origin La Mancha D.O. and borders the south with Andalusia. The climate is dominated by extremes, with temperatures of up to 40°C in summer and down to -10°C in winter. The future of this denomination of origin lies in the hands of those who produce red wine from Tempranillo grapes, which are well suited to aging, such as the excellent Crianzas, Reservas and Gran Reservas.

Am besten zwischen 18-20 °C. Wir empfehlen, den Wein eine halbe Stunde vor dem Servieren zu öffnen oder zu dekantieren.

📄 Verkostungsnotizen

Deep ruby red with burgundy tones. Complex and elegant bouquet of ripe red fruits and a hint of leather, green pepper and spices. Balanced on the palate and expressive with round, high-quality tannins. Good ripening potential, thanks to the well-defined structure of the tannins.

♥ Speiseempfehlung

The ideal accompaniment for all types of meat, stews and mature cheese.

📄 Technische Information

The fermentation is carried out at controlled temperature (26-28°C). With this method, maximum fruitiness and outstanding tannins should be achieved. The wine ripens for at least 18 months in barrels and 3 to 6 years in the bottle.
